The third element of the short story is the setting. The setting is the time and place in which the plot occurs. The author can identify setting details for the reader, such as the time period, the season or the type of place where the story takes place. For example, a short story may be set on a farm, in space, on a beach or in a city.

Conveying Tone in a Story. Tone in writing is conveyed by both the choices of words and the narrator of the story. In Charlotte's Web by E. B. White, although the book is sad, the tone is one of peace and acceptance:. But I feel peaceful. Your success in the ring this morning was, to a small degree, my success.

Examples of Tone in a Story

Our lives, our cultures, are composed of many overlapping stories. Novelist Chimamanda Adichie tells the story of how she found her authentic cultural voice -- and warns that if we hear only a single story about another person or country, we risk a critical misunderstanding.
